Day 1 Barcelona 🚌 Valencia

Tour Overview

Your tour starts from Barcelona, a city overlooking the Mediterranean Sea, and famous for Gaudí and other Art Nouveau architecture. [The Sagrada Família] (optional) is a one-of-a-kind basilica, the fruit of the work of genius architect Antoni Gaudí. Today, construction continues on the Basilica. [Casa Milà] (exterior visit only), a block of flats, is Gaudí's most iconic secular building and also his final residential project. Next, head to Valencia, a city where the classical and the avant-garde meet. Visit [Valencia Cathedral], the city's most important religious building, with its iconic tower, "el Miguelete", a symbol of the city. Not far from the Cathedral, you'll find [Plaça de la Verge], one of the landmarks of the old town. A little further from the centre is the most modern face of Valencia: the [City of Arts and Sciences] (exterior visit only). Overnight stay in Valencia or nearby.

Alcazaba

Plaza of Spain

Seville Cathedral

Royal Palace of Seville

[Alcazaba]

Malaga Castle is another outstanding embodiment of Islamic civilization. Built on the hills of Mount Brabarra, the Malaga Castle is a great location for Malaga's landmarks and bird's eye view of the beach. There are many Muslim-style porches, pavilions, gardens and courtyards in the castle.

[Plaza of Spain]

Seville is a historical city. Its prosperity and decline have enriched the rise and fall of the Spanish Empire. The Plaza of Spain is the most easily confirmed building in Seville, the epitome of the Moorish renaissance architecture.

[Seville Cathedral]

Cathedral of Vitoria, once the largest religious building in the Christian world, has been chosen as a World Heritage Site. The great navigator Columbus finally slept in Seville, and his coffin was buried in the Cathedral of Seville.

[Royal Palace of Seville]

The Royal Palace of Seville is the oldest royal palace in Europe and was chosen as a World Heritage Site in 1987. The palace was built in the Middle Ages, first as a Moorish castle, and later a blend of Islamic, Christian and Gothic styles, reflecting the architectural style of the Andalucía region. In addition to the building, the palace's garden is also a mixture of Arabic and Gothic styles, which is very worth seeing. It is also the location of the palace garden of the Martel family in Dorn in the TV series "Game of Thrones".

Jeronimo Monastery

Belem Tower

April 25th Bridge

Nautical monument

[Jeronimo Monastery]

The Jeronimo Monastery was built more than 100 years after the heyday of Portugal and is the most magnificent and magnificent building in Portugal. The monastery is a perfect combination of Gothic and Renaissance. It is called the "treasure" of Manuel architecture in later generations and cannot be transcended and copied.

[Belem Tower]

Belém Tower is both a testimony to the glorious history of Portugal and a famous landmark in Lisbon. Built in 1500, the tower is more like an old castle, built entirely of white marble. Together with the Jeronimo Monastery, it is rated as one of the world's cultural heritage and one of Portugal's seven wonders.

[April 25th Bridge]

On April 25th the bridge spanned the Tejo River, connecting Lisbon with Almad, on the other side, with a total length of 2277.64 meters. When the bridge was opened to traffic on August 6, 1966, it was called Ponte Salazar. After the revolution, the Dianthus flower revolution was changed to the current name.

[Nautical monument]

The nautical monument, located near the Belém Tower in Lisbon, was built to commemorate the 500th anniversary of the death of the navigator Henrique o Navegador (1394~1460). It is shaped like a ship with a giant sail. The monument is engraved with statues of Henry and 80 other sailors. The person standing on the bow is Henry, then his assistant is Gama, and on both sides are some voyagers who are accompanying the departure. The famous generals, missionaries and scientists in the history of Portugal are quite powerful in commemoration of Portugal's glorious history of pioneering the ocean for 300 years.

Roca pt.

Toledo Cathedral

Ancient city of Toledo

[Roca pt.]

The westernmost point of the entire Eurasia. People built a lighthouse and a cross to the ocean on the cliffs of Cabo da Roca. On the tablet, there is a famous saying in Portuguese: "Onde a terra acaba eo mar começa". Cabo Roca has been rated by Internet users as one of the "50 most worthwhile places in the world."

[Toledo Cathedral]

The famous building in the ancient city, when the Cathedral of Toledo was preferred, the cathedral was built in 1226 and was not completed until the end of the 15th century, which lasted for hundreds of years. The huge, complex, exquisite and rich structure of the cathedral building decoration project is evident.

[Ancient city of Toledo]

Toledo was governed by Arab Moors, Christianity, Judaism, Islam, and Romans, thus leaving a mark of different eras. The buildings in the city cover Gothic, Moorish, Baroque and neoclassical churches, and the monasteries, royal palaces, temples, city walls, stone bridges, and houses are well preserved. It is a living treasure house of multicultural art. In 1986, it was awarded the title of "Human Cultural Heritage City" by the United Nations.

Grand Avenue

Plaza of Spain

Real Madrid Stadium

[Royal Palace of Madrid]

Second only to the Palace of Versailles and Vienna's Schönbrunn Palace, the third largest palace in Europe. It is one of the most preserved and beautiful palaces in the world. The palace has a square structure and is magnificent. The palace houses numerous gold and silver utensils and paintings, porcelain, tapestries and other royal items. It is a representative cultural relic of Bourbon and is one of the best in the European palaces. Now, the palace has been turned into a museum for visitors to visit.

[Plaza Mayor]

This square was built by Philip III in 1619 and has a unique square square. It is 128 meters in width and 94 meters in length and is surrounded by a 4-storey building. In the middle of the square is the equestrian statue of Philip III. After three years of construction, it experienced three fires and was rebuilt. It was completed in 1953 and formed what we now see.

[Puerta del Sol]

Puerta del Sol is located in the centre of Madrid and is semi-circular with 10 streets extending radially outwards. The Security Bureau building is a prominent building in the square, a neoclassical palace-style building from the end of the 18th century. After its completion, it served as the central post office, army headquarters and political department of Madrid. Puerta del Sol is a historic square and a place that reflects the customs of Madrid.

[Grand Avenue]

Gran Vía is a gorgeous upscale shopping street in the heart of the Spanish capital, Madrid, east of Alcalá (close to Cibeles Square) and west to Plaza de España. This lively street is one of the most important shopping areas in the city, with a large number of hotels and large cinemas, and is known for its large buildings.

[Plaza of Spain]

A large square and popular tourist destination in the heart of Madrid, on the western end of Gran Vía. The Royal Palace of Madrid is not far from the south side of the square. At the center of the square is the Miguel de Cervantes monument, including the Cervantes stone carving above, the Don Quixote and the Sanctuary Pansha bronze statue in front, and the two statues representing Don Quixote's true love. Stone statues: the ordinary village of Aunta Rothenso and the beautiful Dulcinea Del Toboso.

[Real Madrid Stadium]

The magical story of the Bernabeu Stadium makes the history of the stadium's Real Madrid team a natural success. It was named the best club of the century by FIFA in 2000. Forever superstars such as Stefano, Puskas, Butragueno, Ronaldo, Raul and Zidane are all on the sacred grassland of the Bernabeu, with its famous white stripes.
