Day

1 Frankfurt  Heidelberg  Ruedesheim  Rhine  Asmannhausen  Frankfurt

Tour Overview

☆08:30 Depart for Heidelberg. It has the oldest university in Germany and one of the longest pedestrian streets in Europe. It has beautiful fountains, elegant residential buildings, etc. The world-famous Cathedral of the Holy Spirit is also located here. ☆09:30 Arrive in Heidelberg, take the Funicular Railway to [Heidelberg Castle]. After visiting the castle, you can also enjoy the unique beauty in the castle garden. ☆11:00 After the tour of the castle, visit the [Old Bridge]. This Baroque stone bridge was built in 1788 and spans the Neckar River, a tributary of the Rhine. Don't forget to touch the right hand of the bronze monkey statue beside the bridge for good luck while admiring the scenic view of the castle. ☆11:30 Visit Market Square, where you will find the Hercules Fountain in the center, the City Hall on the south side, and the [Church of the Holy Spirit (Heiliggeistkirche)] on the west side. Inside the church, there are stained-glass windows depicting the tragedy of the Hiroshima atomic bombing. ☆12:00 Lunch time. ☆13:00 Drive to visit Ruedesheim, a charming wine town along the Rhine River, famous for its vineyards, half-timbered houses, and rich winemaking tradition. It offers a delightful mix of history, culture, and scenic beauty, making it a popular destination for visitors. Visit [Drosselgasse], a lively, narrow alley in Ruedesheim, known for its cozy wine taverns, traditional German music, and vibrant atmosphere. ☆15:30 Take a Rhine River cruise and disembark in the small town of Assmannshausen. You can see the Rheinstein Castle on the other side from the disembarkation point, and then return to Frankfurt. (The boat is open from March 30th to October 20th every year. At other times, drive directly to Assmannshausen for sightseeing) ☆16:00 Return to Frankfurt. ☆17:00 Arrived in Frankfurt, the trip ends.

Ruedesheim

Rhine Valley Cruise

[Ruedesheim]

The wine country of Ruedesheim is situated on a gentle hillside with dense forests on the banks of the river. The city is full of overlapping red roofs and hidden streets of green trees, soaked with flowers and sparkling sunlight. Everything in the small town is small and exquisite, small wine lanes, small museums, small train stations, and the statue of the Little Germanica—only the vineyards are large and large. The vineyards change color as the seasons change, and the picturesque villages are hidden in the vineyards, each of which is an old story.

[Rhine Valley Cruise]

The Rhine River is the largest river in Western Europe and flows through six countries. It is not only a historic river but also the most important shipping route in Western Europe. The Rhine Valley, which flows through Germany, is the most magnificent and legendary part of the Rhine, a World Heritage Site. In order to protect the landscape here, there is no bridge across the river, and there is no one. The people on both sides of the river are crossing the river by ferry.
