(Zagreb Cathedral)

Lake Bled

St. Marks Cathedral

[Assumption Cathedral (Zagreb Cathedral)]

The Assumption Cathedral, located in the heart of the Croatian capital of Zagreb, was destroyed in the 1880 earthquake and later rebuilt in 1899. The ruins include 13th-century frescoes, Renaissance backrest benches, marble altars and Baroque-style pulpit.

[Lake Bled]

Bled is located in the Alpine region of northwestern Slovenia and is a famous resort lake in Slovenia. In this paradise on earth, the blue waters are backed by green hills, and the lovely islands are dotted with them. Together with the mysterious castles and distant mountains, they form a picture like a dream.

[St. Marks Cathedral]

Located on St. Mark's Square, St. Mark's Church in Zagreb is a Gothic building with a beautiful tiled roof. Located in the heart of St. Mark's Square, it was built in the 13th century. The interior of the church is beautifully carved and has different shapes. The eastern side of St. Mark's Square is the Croatian Parliament and the west side is the seat of the Croatian government. The work of the famous Croatian sculptor Meštrović is displayed in the church.

[Plitvice Lakes National Park]

The most desirable lake, waterfall and wildlife habitat in Europe - Plitvice is known as the Plitvice Lakes National Park because of its main 16 lakes. Whether it is scenery or geological origin, the Plitvice Lakes group is very similar to Jiuzhaigou in China, so in China, it is often referred to as "European Jiuzhaigou". The waterfall with the largest drop here is nearly 200 meters, and the smallest drop is only 2 meters. I don't know if it is the smallest waterfall in the world. Unlike the famous Great Falls, the rush is not a feature of the Plitvice Lakes waterfall. The feminine and quietness created by silk silk is the special feature here.

[St. Donat Church]

The former Romanesque church of St. Donat, with its rounded appearance, is undoubtedly the most outstanding symbol of Zadar and enjoys a special place in the 14 existing churches in the city. Built in the 9th century, rebuilt in the 15th century, it is now used as a concert hall. The ruins in front of the church are the ruins of the ancient Roman palace

[Zadar city gate]

The gates of Zadar are the gates of the Venetians built in 1543, one of the landmarks of Zadar. The flying San Marco stone lion statue in the center of the city gate shows the origin of the royal family in Venice. Under the stone lion is the statue of the patron saint, guarding the history of Zadar

[Sea organ]

The world's unique sea organ, built in 2005, is a group of 70-meter-long waterfall ladders leading to the sea. It is equipped with 35 pipes of different caliber sizes and different slopes, which are issued by the impact of sea breeze and waves. sound. The unique Zalda "sea organ" in the world. The principle of vocalization is to place the music tube under the marble steps on the seashore, and use the movement of the waves to exert pressure on the air inside the tube to make a sound. Therefore, the player of the sea organ is a wave, it is nature.

[Mostar Bridge]

The Mostar Bridge is a 16th-century bridge in the ancient city of Mostar in the southern part of Bosnia and Herzegovina. It is also known as the inner river of the Neretva, which is also known for its beautiful curvature and magnificent form. Rainbow over the river Leteva. The stone bridge was first built by Turkish architects in 1566. It was blown up during the Bosnian War on November 9, 1993, and became a permanent testimony of racial hatred. Since then, under the assistance of international organizations and many countries, the ancient bridge that has been restored and rebuilt for three years was reopened on July 23, 2004, and many buildings around the ancient bridge were also restored. Due to the heavy history of the city and the meaning of the bridge itself, the reconstructed ancient bridge is regarded as a symbol of coordinated reconciliation and international cooperation, and has also been placed on the hope of harmonious coexistence among different cultures, races and religious societies.

[Latin Bridge]

The Latin Bridge is located in the city centre and was known as the Principe Bridge during the Yugoslav period. The northern end of the Latin Bridge is the scene of the Sarajevo incident. This incident was also the fuse of the First World War. The current bridge was built in 1798-1799.

[Sarajevo Grand Mosque]

Located in the heart of the old city of Sarajevo, it was built by Gazi Husrev Bey, who was then the governor of the Ottoman Empire in Bosnia. It was built in 1531 and was carried out in the 1990s due to damage during the civil war. The reconstruction work is now the largest and most important historical building and Islamic religious center in Bosnia and Herzegovina. There are mausoleums in the temple, and many great figures in the history of Bosnia have been sleeping here.
