Brazilian Palace

Sleepless square

Koutoubia Mosque

[Brazilian Palace]

The Brazilian Royal Palace is characterized by a very large wall. After entering, there are many narrow corridors and arches. Walking through the corridor arches and many large and small rooms, it is like a labyrinth. Tall carved wooden doors, hollow windows, ground and walls are covered with Muslim-style mosaics and fine stone carvings. Oil lamps are lit in the dark room, and the lights are swaying, feeling the mystery and confusion of the thousand and one nights.

[Sleepless square]

From sunrise to late night, you can see Indian snake snakes, Arabs who sell spice tea, Moroccan old people who tell stories and fortune tellers, performers, and countless buy and sell food, drinks, clothing, carpets. It is a small stall of furnishings, leather and handicrafts. It is like Lan Kwai Fong in Hong Kong and Xintiandi in Shanghai. Because of this square, Marrakech has endless vitality.

[Koutoubia Mosque]

Koutoubia Mosque This is one of the most beautiful mosques in North Africa. It was built in the 11th century and has 17 colonnades perpendicular to the pilgrimage to Mecca. There are light-grooves in the sacred alcove and the two spans of its wings. The wooden structure "Mukenas" honeycomb-shaped three-dimensional carvings can be located in a lower position. This unique and wonderful setting is in the future building. It has not appeared.

Day 3 Ouarzazate 🚗 Todra Gorge 🚗 Merzouga

Tour Overview

After breakfast, drive towards Merzouga, passing through the [Todra Gorge], a stunning natural wonder, with towering cliffs of orange and pink rock that rise over 300 meters high, creating a dramatic canyon that is popular for hiking and photography. In the afternoon, arrive at [Merzouga] (please bring sun screen and sunglasses), which is one of the gates of the Sahara which is a small village located in the middle of the sands, known for its vast sand dunes, including the famous Erg Chebbi dunes. After dinner, check in to the hotel and rest.

Kind Reminder:

Tonight, you have the option to upgrade to a luxury tent in the Sahara Desert at your own expense [with a private bathroom, 50 euros per person per night (minimum 2 people)]. This upgrade allows you to experience a unique accommodation in the heart of the desert, where you can enjoy the unparalleled natural beauty, including a clear starry sky and breathtaking sunrises and sunsets: Royal Oasis Camp or Sarah Garden or Azawad Luxury Desert Camp or similar

Merzouga Desert

[Merzouga Desert]

Merzouga is a small village in southeastern Morocco. There is no violent sandstorm, it is the most peaceful and peaceful side of the Sahara, so it has become a must for many tourists to visit the Sahara. During the day, the view of the sand dunes in Mezuka is a stunning sight. When the night falls, I find even greater surprises. The sky without the black Meizuka is full of stars, and you can't imagine the life in the city. Another surprise for Merzouga is the "Sahara's Elf" - the ear fox, these little guys sprout your heart with a large ear, of course, this little guy is also the prototype of the protagonist fox in "Little Prince".

Médina de fes

Meknes

Warrubilis City

[Médina de fes]

It seems that back to a thousand years ago, the donkey is still the main means of transportation for the people. Visit the Attaline and Bou Inania medersas (the Qur'anic Institute), the Nejjarine Springs, and the Moulay Idriss Zaouia (the ancient capital built in the 1981 UNESCO World Heritage Site) And the appearance of the world's first university, the Qaqouiyin University.

[Meknes]

The ancient city walls are majestic and famous for their triumphant and triumphant Bab Mansour.

[Warrubilis City]

Ancient Roman ruins in North Africa - Warrubilis City, according to records, in the 1st century AD, it used to be a bustling city, and the whole city showed a thriving scene. There is now a well-preserved Arc de Triomphe and a white stone column in the theater. Even the ancient city streets, residential houses, oil mills, public baths, markets, etc. are still clearly visible, and there are many mosaic murals.

Palais Royal

Tower Hassan

[Palais Royal]

The official name of the Monaco Palace is the Grand Duke of Monaco, the main palace of the Grand Duchy of Monaco. Built in 1191, the fortress that was originally built for a Genoese has experienced countless foreign sieges and artillery in its long history.

[Tower Hassan]

Hassan Tower was built in 1196 AD by the Almerhad dynasty. At that time, the Sudan had a great wish to build the world's largest mosque, so that all the troops would pray here, but there was no shortage of funds and earthquakes. The project was Suddenly interrupted, leaving only a hundred unfinished spires, the entire building is majestic and elegant, reflecting the beautiful architectural crafts of Arabian Muslims and the architectural style and decorative arts of Mot.
