Girona

[Dalí Theatre Museum]

The Teatro Museo Dalí is located 20 km north of Barcelona from the French border, a town known for its grotesque and popular surrealist art giants. The design here is done by Dalí himself. From the outside, Dalí's grotesqueness is evident; the top of the museum has a huge glass dome, surrounded by many or standing or inverted eggs and some The hermaphrodite sculptures are mixed in, and there are countless paintings by Dalí at various stages of creation, including "The Wall Clock", "The Apparition of Venus", "The Evolution of Nashes" and so on. s work. In addition to painting, there are sculptures, jewellery and furniture designed by Dalí. In the basement of the museum's center, there is Dalí's sarcophagus, which also displays some of the gold ornaments designed by Dalí.

[Girona]

Girona is located 100 km north of Barcelona. As early as the Middle Ages, there were famous Jews living here, and the quiet town still preserved many Jewish relics. Girona developed along the right bank of the Onyar River, and most of the city's famous monuments and old towns are located on the hillside. The surrounding area of the old city was once surrounded by the city walls. Unfortunately, some of the city walls have ceased to exist today, but the beautiful roofs and labyrinth streets can still be seen from the ruins. The main attraction of Girona lies in its intricate cloths and alleys, which are made up of winding lanes, which are cut off by the stone steps leading to the church, and the trees are lined with stone steps.

Montserrat

Cardona Castle

[Montserrat]

The Virgin of Montserrat is the favorite saint of the Catalans, located on the cliffs beside the Benedictine monastery. The height difference between the monastery and the valley reaches 1,236 meters, the highest point of the Catalonia lowlands and located in the middle of the most dense part of Catalonia. Montserrat Monastery is the most important religious shrine in Catalonia and plays an important role in the cultural and spiritual life of Catalonia. The museum of the Pontifical Temple has works by many outstanding painters and sculptors such as Greco, Dali and Picasso.

[Cardona Castle]

Cardona is a beautiful town about an hour's drive from Barcelona. The most prominent view is the charming 9th century castle (Castillo de Cardona, Conjunto), which has been transformed into a castle. One of the Spanish state-run chain hotels (Parador de Cardona). In addition, there is an interesting El Parque Cultural de la Montaña de Sal, which is very educational.

Tarragona

Sitges

[Tarragona]

Tarragona is the most important port city in southern Catalonia and the most ancient city in Catalonia. During the Roman Empire, the city of Tarago was the capital of the Istanian region and once governed almost half of the territory of the Iberian Peninsula. The ancient Roman walls, amphitheatre, arena and other monuments have been preserved to this day.

[Sitges]

Sitges is located 37 km south of Barcelona, and everything is so beautiful in this embarrassing town. A rosy church is located on the outstretched promontory, surrounded by snow-white houses, like a blooming flower. This is a high-class villa area, with many wealthy people who love art, and the rich people are surrounded by a large number of artists, which is why this is called the city of art.
