[Stockholm Old Town]

The history of the Old Town dates back to the 13th century. The city has medieval alleys, round stone streets and ancient buildings, influenced by the North Germanic style. Since Sweden has no wars for 200 years, the old city is relatively well preserved.

Cathedral Square

Underground rock church

Marina Market

Sibelius Park

[Cathedral Square]

The cathedral is the most famous building in Helsinki, located on the Parliament Square, a Lutheran church. Built in 1852, the Helsinki Cathedral is an exquisite structure with extraordinary ambience and is the essence of Finnish architectural art. On the square in front of the cathedral stands a bronze statue of Tsar Alexander II, built in 1894, to commemorate his extensive autonomy in Finland.

[Underground rock church]

The rock church was carved out of a whole rock. Standing outside the church, it was a huge rock. The roof of the church is supported by 100 radial beams and columns, and is inlaid with clear glass, so you don't feel underground. Because the hall is ring-shaped, the sound is very good, suitable for small bands and a cappella ensemble performances.

[Marina Market]

Here you will find a variety of suede, reindeer skins, crafts made from antlers, colourful fresh fruits and vegetables and flowers that bring inspiration to this calm city. The various flavors of the cuisine on the square give the foodies a reason to visit here!

[Sibelius Park]

Sibelius Park is located in the north-west of the city centre of Helsinki, Finland. The park is green and verdant. In this memorable park, there are two statues, in addition to an abstract figure resembling an organ composed of 600 steel pipes, and a master's head sculpture. These two romantic statues are the works of the famous Finnish female sculptor Eila Hiltunen (born 1922).

It is the largest royal palace still in use in the world. In the palace you can visit a variety of gold and silver jewellery, exquisite utensils, and exquisite murals and reliefs in the palace. In addition, the guard changing ceremony in front of the palace has become one of the famous tourist attractions.

[Vasa Shipwreck Museum]

The 17th century battleship - Vasa, which was picked up from the sea floor, was displayed in the pavilion. Although the history of sailing is very short, the Swedes are still regarded as national treasures, because they present the technology and art of Swedish shipbuilding in the seventeenth century, especially the wood carving skills on board are still very exciting.

[Oslo City Hall]

The Oslo City Hall is the awarding place for the annual Nobel Peace Prize. From the outside, it looks like a slightly serious government office building, but after entering, the walls of the memorial hall are full of beautiful murals depicting Norwegian history and mythology.

[Akershus Castle]

Akershus Castle is a majestic castle standing on the edge of the Cape Aker. It was designed and built by King Novo V of Norway in 1300 to resist foreign aggression.
